"U" ALUMNI PLAN DRIVE FOR FUNDS

P. C. DALY HEADS COUNTY COMMITTEE TO RAISE $5,000

P. C. Daly has been appointed chairman of the Wisconsin University Memorial Union Building Fund Campaign Committee in Wood county and has opened a drive to raise $5,000 in this county among the former students and graduates of the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Daly is being assisted by Miss Martha Piske, covering the entire county in their drive to raise the quota for this section. Letters are being mailed to the ex-students and graduates, and while more than one hundred have been notified of the movement in this county, there are considerably more than that who have attended the institution and who are expected to make voluntary contributions.

Plan Men's Building

The idea that the former students have in mind is to build a large Union Memorial Building incorporating reading rooms, lounging rooms, play rooms, a commons to feed 2,000 men at one meal, a theater for student meetings, dramatics, debates, glee club or orchestra concerts, music, vaudeville, smokers, mixers, or for anything of that nature the theater might be used, a building to fill the want of the men students like the women's dormitories fill the wants of the co-eds.

According to Mr. Daly there are some 5,000 men students at the University, 4,000 of whom live in private homes with practically no place to congregate with their friends. There are about one hundred and fifty disabled soldiers there are to remain "buddies" on this side of the water in their university life as they did while fighting for their country. They have a thriving little association now, but are in need of a club room to use as a meeting place.

Located Near Gym

The proposed location of the building is on Langdon street in Madison, west of the men's gymnasium, fronting on the lower campus. The materials which are proposed to be used in its construction are Bedford limestone for the exterior finish, to be two stories in height, and be erected to serve the daily needs of the students in both work and play.

The total amount to be pledged for the building is $500,000, of which $5,000 is the allotment for Wood county.

ALLIED COUNTRIES TO PRODUCE TO UTMOST

SUPREME COUNCIL PREPARE MANIFESTO (By Associated Press)

Paris, March 2—All allied countries will be called upon to develop to their utmost thru productive forces and advised that laws meeting the condition of workers must be applied to in a manifesto prepared by the economic section of the Supreme Allied Council yesterday, says Pertinax edition of the Economic Press.

Must Sacrifice

"With this object in view the rights of different governments will be told thru laws supporting each. A return to the system created during the war but disbanded after the armistice." The manifesto declares the following principles should be recognized: "In every country the problem of production is not only national but international and both as regards the distribution and transportation of raw material. It is admitted that each state must not create not only for its own interests but must accept sacrifices in the interest of the general welfare. The necessity for greatest economy in the manufacture of war material is apparent. In connection with which small central European states will be addressed which show signs of making support by former claims. It is necessary certain steps will be taken against them. Europe must form a general economic unity and return to healthier conditions all parts of which must be re-constituted. Measures then must be taken to enable Germany and Russia to contribute to the economic life of Europe."

HOME SHORTAGE IN JANESVILLE

PLUMBERS ASK FOR $10 A DAY

The Samson Tractor Company, a subsidiary of the General Motors corporation, Janesville, Wisconsin, has suspended work on its plant extension work to a shortage of homes estimated at 1,000. Plumbers are striking for $10.00 a day.

Single rooms are renting at $40 a month and flats at $60 and $80, with prospects of going higher.

House Shortage

One of the reasons for curtailing further building is the shortage of housing for the additional employees of the new units of the plant.

Failure of local interests to erect a $500,000 hotel is another feature in the lack of living accommodations. The plumbers on strike have been getting $7 a day. They have refused $8.

SON MISSING 16 YEARS IS HOME AGAIN

PHILLIP HAYDOCK RETURNS HOME AFTER LONG ABSENCE—NO WORD RECEIVED FROM HIM SINCE DEPARTURE

Out near Rudolph there is a mother, who is making preparations for the return of her long missing son. Three is an aged father too, who is longing to see his son, who has been missing for sixteen years. The man, the son, now 33 years of age, who left his home to see the world, is today back looking fit and feeling fine, a member of Uncle Sam's regulars, Private Phillip Haydock, Co. H, 49th Infantry. He is enjoying a fifteen day furlough from Fort Snelling, Minn. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haydock, farmers near Rudolph.

Reunion Tonight

When Phillip Haydock returned today he got into communication with his brother, Alex Haydock, employed at the Consolidated mill and went to his brother's home. They immediately notified the old folks and the brothers and sisters, who are all going to join in one big family reunion at the family farm near Rudolph. The father call will be killed for the return of the prodigal. Here is a real case in real life of the boy, so long missing, turning up well and happy, to bring joy to the hearts of the old folks and to his four brothers and three sisters.

Sent No Word

Sixteen years ago this spring Phillip went away. He was a lad about eighteen years old. He had the wanderlust and wanted to see the wide world. There were no quarrels. He was employed at the Biron mill at the time of his departure and he just went away and the world awaited him "up." He sent no word of his whereabouts to his anxious parents, just disappeared, fighting his way thru many cities and states until, he was drafted by the army three months and a half before the armistice. Now he has two more years of service in the "regs" before he becomes a civilian.

Is Modest Man

A representative of the Tribune interviewed Phillip Haydock today as he was waiting for the Biron bus to take him to the mill.

"How does the old town look," he was asked.

"It looks about the same. There are a few new buildings, but I don't know anybody. They are all strangers now. I used to know everyone," was his reply.

When questioned where he had been he said, "If I told you you wouldn't have any printing office left. There would not be enough room to spread all the type."

Modesty about himself, his experiences and his exploits, was particularly noticeable. He didn't have much to say about himself.

His brothers Alex, Antone, Louis Haydock and their wives of this city, Joseph, who farms at Rudolph, his sister, Mrs. Louis Lychwick, Mrs. Peter Brostowitz, and Mrs. Joseph Kizykowski and their husbands of Rudolph together with the parents will make up the family reunion at the Haydock farm tonight.

FRENCH BABIES GIVEN INCONGRUOUS NAMES

NAMES SHOULD BE DRAWN FROM CALENDAR OF SAINTS

Paris—Babies in France in war time or since have received many topical names, for the most part ugly and incongruous. An appeal has now been issued that this custom cease, and that the ordinary christian names, drawn from the Calendar of Saints, should once more become universal thruout the country. Among the names given to some of the unfortunate children born during the war, Joffrette and Joffrette are common. A father of Bordeaux was anxious to christen his daughter Revanche and this name was also suggested by an inhabitant of Montreuil for his son. Place names, such as Namuh, Liege, LeMarne, Alsace-Lorraine, Mulhouse, Verdun and Salonique are also now quite usual. As for the Frances and the Victoires, it should be difficult to count them.

BLUETT CATCHES WAUSAU FUGITIVE

LEAP THRU SASH OF MOVING TRAIN ENDS IN CAPTURE OF BRANDON LAD

A leap for liberty thru the window of a swiftly moving passenger train near Wausau, a flight and pursuit from Schofield to Junction City, and an ultimate capture by Sheriff Bluett of this city were the opening chapters in the public life of Eugene Wellner aged 14 of Brandon, Wis., who now reclines in the county jail at Wausau awaiting further excitement.

Wanted At Fond du Lac

The young man had been employed at Mosinee where the Wausau authorities went to arrest him on a charge preferred by the Fond du Lac authorities. The arrest was made and the lad started back to Wausau under the care of the deputy. Between Rathschold and Schofield, while the train was traveling at the rate of about twenty miles per hour, Wellner leaped thru the window, taking glass, sash and all with him, and escaped in the dense woods of that section. The train was stopped and the authorities started on the trail, losing it and for the time being giving up the search. Sheriff Bluett was notified and warned to be on the lookout for the lad. The warning served its purpose, the sheriff picking up the lad at Junction City Monday while there on some other business.

Brought Here

He was brought to this city and lodged in the county jail, the Wausau deputy making a trip to this city and taking him back to Wausau. The lad was not seriously injured in his daring leap, receiving but a few minor bruises and scratches. He is fourteen years of age but according to the authorities looks much older.

JUDGE UPHOLDS PAPER COMPANY IN FLOOD CASE

BENCH SUSTAINS CONSOLIDATED IN OVERFLOW OF HEMMIS LAND AT BIRON

Judge Byron B. Park upheld the Consolidated Water Power Co. of this city on Monday when he handed down his decision in the Matt Hemmis vs. Consolidated case which had been pending in the circuit court of this district for some time. The case grew out of the raising of the Biron dam in 1916, the raise flooding a portion of some land which Hemmis owns about five miles north of Biron on the river road. Represented by a Stevens Point attorney he appeared in the circuit court asking $10,000 damages for the overflowing of his land, stipulating that it impaired it for farming purposes. The case was tried by jury, who allowed $300 on the belief that the land was owned by Hemmis and that he suffered some damages from the flooding, however, Judge Park in his decision disallowed this damage, on the ground that the previous owner of the land had sold the flooding right to the Consolidated and that Hemmis bought the land under those circumstances.

Sold Flood Rights

J. P. Malick, former owner of the land, it was stated in the decision, sold the rights of flooding to the Consolidated at the time they decided to raise the dam. Later Hemmis bought the farm, and when the dam was raised and his land flooded he asked damages.

Planned Other Law Suits

The farm in the controversy is one of the many between Biron and the Brawley Rapids which were flooded at the time that the dam was raised up there. Other farmers, it is stated, had planned to bring similar actions should the Hemmis case be decided in favor of Mr. Hemmis. The decision, coming in favor of the local manufacturing company, is said to probably write the closing chapter in these contemplated damage suits.

THE RIGHT TO BEAUTY

It is now recognized that a city has a right to bar itself against nuisances, such as offensive odors, but why have we loved as a city for years and years and not recognized our right to bar buildings that are a nuisance and offensive to the eyes?

There is a constant movement on foot everywhere guarding against the erection of shacks and temporary structures both in residence and business districts. The exploitation of the city's lands for the building of homely and ugly buildings should be prevented.

As the city of Grand Rapids develops and grows, an eagle eye should be kept on the building program. We should at least insist on the erection of new buildings, that will be a credit to any district in the city. There ought to be enough civic pride in this city to insist on the demolition of eyesores, fire traps and ugly buildings. A good business housed in a poor building is a handicap to that concern. Citizens housed in attractive homes make better citizens.

OUR VACANT EMBASSIES

In the higher ranks of the diplomatic service there is an unusual number of vacant posts today. We have no ambassadors or ministers on duty in Germany, Austria, Turkey, Bulgaria, Russia, China, Switzerland, Greece, Denmark, Holland or Mexico, not to speak of the newly-created European states. It is natural enough that higher diplomatic posts in those countries with which the United States has been at war should be left unfilled until the treaty of peace is ratified; but the delay in naming new ministers to neutral and allied countries is a plain indication of the way in which the state department has had to pursue a drifting policy for the past few months.

Yet if there ever was a time when we ought to have our diplomatic sentinels on guard it is now. The United States has become a great creditor nation and our interests extend to every part of the world. Now as never before it is essential that the national authorities shall have accurate knowledge of what is going on everywhere. Yet nearly half the strategic centers of official information have been turned over to subordinates in these crucial days.

It is no wonder that Mr. Lansing has felt like a man in a strait-jacket. He has had the responsibilities of diplomatic intercourse without the powers. No doubt he has made suggestions as to the filling of these vacancies, and members of the house committee on foreign affairs have openly criticized the existing situation, but neither seems to have made much impression at the White House. —Boston Herald.

TRIBUNE LETTER BOX

Editor Grand Rapids Daily Tribune: Dear Sir:—Having heard considerable discussion on the matter of changing the name of the city I wish to suggest the following names: Minnehaha, (Indian Laughing Waters), Dell Rapids. Thanking you I am, Yours truly, P. B. Amondson, Pittsville, R. I.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 24, 1920.

Editor Leader:—I notice by the Daily Leader which my father sends me regularly that a move is on to change the name of our good old city Grand Rapids. I say our city as I was born and raised to manhood at Meehan only ten miles away, and since have been employed much of my time in the good old town and I for one have learned to love its name as well as the town and people.

I noticed an article that my father B. S. Fox, had in a recent issue of the Leader in which he gave his reasons for hoping that the changing of names would never be made. I noticed he forgot to mention the fact that his father (my grandfather) S. L. Fox enlisted there early in 61 in Co. G, 12th Wisconsin Infantry, and went from there with such men as Judge C. M. Webb, G. H. Baker, M. S. Pratt, Oat. Waker, J. Grignon and many more good old pioneers whom I cannot call to memory.

I just mention this to show why we love the name Grand Rapids, it is a Grand Rapids and a beautiful one too, no wonder such men as Editor Fontaine is opposed to changing the city's name. As for myself I enlisted at Grand Rapids, April 15, 1917, with the Navy and was assigned to Battleship Wyoming and with this ship I entered the war zone in the North Sea where I served for over a year with the Sixth Battle Squadron of the Grand Fleet whose duty it was to hold the blockade of the German coast and to engage the Imperial Fleet when opportunity offered itself. It was always recognized as a Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, sailor. I was present at the surrender of the German High Sea Fleet on the morning of November 21, 1918.

During my stay in European waters I wrote a good number of letters to friends at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. I sent several packages and I wish to say that not one of them ever went to Michigan or Minnesota. I have been in nearly all of the large cities in England and Scotland and saw the great sights they had to offer, I took part in the Grand Victory Parade on Fifth Avenue, New York City on December 26th, 1918, upon our return from overseas.

I extended my duration of war enlistment for one year. Our battleship division was assigned to the New Pacific Fleet and got underway from Hampton Roads on July 19th for the Panama Canal. I wrote letters from there, then we steamed up the Mexican coast to San Diego, California. As we proceeded up the coast to San Francisco we stopped and visited all cities on the waterfront and I wrote letters from all of them; then we steamed to Portland, Bellingham, Seattle and on to Puget Sound Yards to Bremerton where the ship is now.

On March 20th we are scheduled to sail for Honolulu. I shall write from there and have no fear of my letter going astray. Grand Rapids is a beautiful name, it is a beautiful city, has much beautiful scenery and drives, just as beautiful young ladies as any city that I ever visited and is chuck full of good people and enterprising business men.

Change the name of the state if you will but I sincerely hope the name of the city will never be changed. When my present term of enlistment expires in August next, I am coming back home and I hope to find the old city still bearing the honorable name of Grand Rapids.

Hundreds of as good sailors as ever shouldered a gun in defense of our country went from Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, and they have, I believe so represented the city that it is known thousands of miles away instead of not being heard of one hundred miles away.

In the Y. M. C. A. Eagle Hut on the Strand, London, hung a very large map of the United States. There was a custom there for a uniform man from America to write his name upon a small flag and to pin it to his home town. I found Grand Rapids right away for the cluster of flags showed that a good number of her men had visited there and were glad to let it be known to the world. If the Eagle Hut still stands in London and the map is there anyone that may visit it will find a little American flag with my name on one side pinned to the heart of the city. Long may Grand Rapids live and prosper and long may she bear the honorable name that her pioneer settlers love and save her.

Donald L. Fox, Coxswain, U. S. Navy.

To the Editor:

From an article in the Leader, it appears there are city people yet in favor of "the daylight saving law." Has it not occurred to anyone that factories can begin work at 6:00 o'clock? There is no law to hinder it, and not upset the time of the whole country. Farmers in the busy seasons begin their work when dawn appears and continue until dark if so driven or inclined. But they all want their noon hour when the sun is at the meridian. It is most fitting for them. To those who work in factories or offices and stores it does not matter.

Any woman who has several small children in ages from six to twelve and has to take care of them and start them away on a two or more mile walk to school while it is yet dark in the morning in order to be in time and not tardy, was simply disgusted with that law.

In That Case It Was Inhuman.

If our President could have seen all the abandoned gardens through the end of the season that were so enthusiastically planted, he would know that the country was not so very much benefited. As for the farmer, it is always to their interest to raise as much as possible. That is their business and they do and will, regardless of the clock. So why not let the old reliable time remain forevermore? Written for An Ordinary Peaceable, but on that question rebellious minded Farm Woman, by George T. Nixon.

BRITISH EXPECT EXCESS IMPORTS OVER EXPORTS

BALANCE FOR YEAR 669,000,000 POUNDS

London—Great Britain's adverse trade balance for the year amounted to 669,000,000 pounds. Against this will apply Britain's "invisible exports" which have been estimated by the Board of Trade at 400,000,000 pounds for freight charges, 80,000,000 pounds in interest on foreign investments, and 40,000,000 pounds in insurance charges, bank charges, commissions, etc. These would total 520,000,000 pounds, leaving an adverse balance of 149,000,000 pounds, as compared with the pre-war favorable balance of 228,000,000 pounds.

Exports Increased

A considerable reduction of the excess of imports over exports is expected in 1920 for two reasons in particular, says the American Chamber of Commerce in London. First, the imports in the early months of 1919 are stated to have consisted largely of balances of deliveries of war materials which will, of course, not recur in 1920. Second, 1919 was largely a year of re-stocking for British manufacturers. In 1920 therefore the American Chamber says Britain should be able to save accordingly on imports of raw materials while the exports of finished goods should be increased.

Importing Less

Despite the fact that Britain's 1919 imports were more than twice her 1913 imports in value, the American Chamber points out that they were less than four-fifths the 1913 imports in quality. The average cost of 1913

Boy Scouts of America

Local Scout News

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus club rooms the Scoutmasters Association held an interesting session. The meeting was called to order by Scout Commissioner Nash at 3 o'clock sharp. Mr. Berard of Troop 4 opened the discussion with a short talk on "The Scoutmaster's Job". Mr. Berard said among other things that one of the big tasks of the Scoutmaster was Americanization. "Scoutmaster," he insists, "should be spelled S-E-R-V-I-C-E". A general discussion of the "Scoutmasters Job" followed, with reports from various scoutmasters as to how they were meeting the requirements. It was decided that similar meetings would be held at frequent intervals. At the next one it is planned to serve refreshments or possibly have a "regular feed." As soon as the weather permits it is planned to hold an overnight hike for the Scoutmasters and Councilmen for the purpose of getting a little practical experience in outdoor scouting and to pass some of the out-door tests. It was unanimously decided that the scoutmaster should qualify as a first class scout as soon as possible.

Scout Scribe School to be Held

Starting next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be an instruction school for Scout Scribes at the Office of the Scout Executive. The Scout Scribe is the Company Clerk and is a very important member of the troop. If he does his job well the scoutmaster is saved a great deal of unnecessary efforts. It is quite essential that the scribe know his job and do it. So all you scout scribes, please take due notice and be on hand next Sunday at 3 p. m.

While the Scout Scribe School is in session candidate patrol leaders who are prepared may take the Patrol Leaders examination. Report for this at 2:30 p. m.

Second Class Finals

Examination for Second Class Rank will be held next Thursday afternoon from four to six p. m. All Scouts wishing to qualify for this degree must come prepared with tests slips showing that the various requirements have been met. Also bring bandages, flags, and other material needed in the test. Remember, you would be First Class Scouts and Merit Badge Aspirants the Court of Honor will hold its first regular monthly session imports figures out at about 14 pounds a ton; in 1919 it was about 41 pounds a ton. Great Britain is still importing less than her pre-war quantities.

Rise in Exports

A review of the monthly totals shows an almost unbroken rise in the export of British goods, culminating in a yearly total of practically 793,000,000. Of this 631,000,000 or almost 80 percent, were manufactured articles a tribute to the degree to which British production is under way despite the crippling difficulties of industrial disputes since the armistice.

According to the American Chamber, prospects for British trade for the coming year, both for export and re-export, are unusually promising.

next Monday, March 8th. Be and "Be Prepared." The meeting will be held at the local headquarters will start at 8 a. m. sharp. Nekooos Holding "Father & Banquet"

The Boy Scouts of Nekooos hold a Father and Son Banquet day March 2nd. There are eight scouts in Nekooos and is progressing remarkably.

What The Troops Are

Troop No. 1 reports a vision last Tuesday. Their scoutmaster, Hugh Gogge, took them thru the setting up and various stunts, which made at once a very popular man with section of Grand Rapids, known as Tr. No. 1, B. S. A. A knot tying test, a cracker eating race and horse and rider game were featured during the "fun period."

Troop No. 2, also boasts of a scoutmaster, Mr. William F. Huffman, editor of the Daily Leader. Huffman has consented to assist Roenius and Mr. Babcock in having this troop. And so, any of troops that think you can drill, keep an eye on troop No. 2.

Troop 3 and 4 had a joint session last Monday at the K. C. Hall. Aid was the subject studied. A man's lift race and other contests illustrating various "carries" featured. Troop 3 will meet this evening. Troop 4 will meet Thursday, the K. C. Hall and after the meeting will enjoy a "feed."

Troop 5, "Come on you Scouts Troop 5," says Patrol Leader T. Malicke, "Let's all get busy and on the job this month so we can that feed on Troop 2."

Troop 6 held their regular meeting at the 1st Moravian church last day with only three absentees. At the meeting the boys were treated to a little feed, "hot dog sandwich and coffee" which was enjoyed by the whole crowd.

Troop 7, well there will soon be a troop 7 officially. Mr. Rahn, of 1st National Bank, who has had considerable experience as a scoutmaster is going to register as scoutmaster for this troop, which will consist of the overflow from troop 1. By way, here's a record to be proud of—Troop 1 has recruited enough scouts to start a new troop. I guess this troop believes in passing a good thing along, eh?

WILL FURNISH CAMPING GROUND FOR TOURISTS

Acting upon the suggestion of the Wisconsin Good Roads association, the Chamber of Commerce of Grand Rapids has started plans for the establishment of a tourists camping grounds in this city. The idea is to have a place where people touring in automobiles in summer can stop and put up their tent if they desire, having water, high dry ground, fire wood, and other conveniences, having the grounds close enough to the city that they might easily spend the evening at a moving picture show or amuse themselves any other way that they desire. President Northington was authorized to appoint a committee of three to take up this matter, investigating hotel accommodations and looking for a suitable location for a camping site.

T. A. Taylor explained to those present how this matter was being taken care of in other cities, how the grounds were being lighted, a guard stationed there to watch personal belongings and cars, how conveniences were being put in to accommodate the tourists, even to the extent of putting in shower baths. A guard keeps up the grounds, sees that no one molests things in other peoples cars, and especially watches local thieves or boys molesting the traveler. He would be a source of information to strangers and would assist them and let them know that the people of the city are anxious to have them stop.

It was stated in the letter from the good roads association of Wisconsin that there was considerable trouble in getting hotel accommodations last year, and that these camping sites solved the problem. They want information on what this city is going to do, and state that they will pass this information on to the tourists who inquire about the camping facilities. While no definite steps have been taken here, there are several good camping grounds, the Lyon Park near the Northwestern bridge being a good one, while others along the river are available.

The Valley of the Giants

The first story to adequately portray the majesty and grandeur of the big tree section of California and to use it as an effective setting for a stirring work of fiction.

Peter B. Kyne

in this principality of the woods, the redwood forests; an area four hundred miles long and of an average width of thirty miles; has introduced events and human participants well in keeping with the stupendous environment. The people are those who conquered a wilderness and hewed out a path for civilization—prototypes of the forest giants against which they prevailed. True to its locality and written by one who has lived among and been a part of the life he so delightfully pictures, it is one of the big books of American romance, action and incident. To know Kyne in any of his stories is wholesome; to know "The Valley of the Giants" is exhilarating in the highest degree.

ED. GARBER'S
"The Poor Man's Friend"

THIS EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY QUINN
DOWN

THE CANARY BIRD'S HOME.

"Do you sing so happily, so wonderfully?" asked a little fairy of a canary bird.

The canary bird wore a lovely yellow - shaded coat of soft feathers and his little eyes were very bright and his little beak very sharp and his little legs very thin.

"Do I sing in all those ways?" asked the canary bird.

"Yes," said the fairy. "I am not hating you. That is quite the truth—all of what we said is surely the truth."

"I'm so glad," said the canary, "for you to let folks know I am happy."

"Why?" asked the fairy.

"Because," said the canary bird, "I want to make them happy, too."

"That's a very sweet little wish," said the fairy. "How did you happen to be the first place to think of it?"

"Well," said the canary, "when my master bought me he gave me my little mate for company. She twitters a little and chirps and talks to me so sweetly, but she is not a great singer."

"I like to hear him sing," said his little mate. "I feel so proud of my mate. I like to think to myself: 'Mrs. Canary, your husband has the most glorious of voices. You're a lucky little canary to be his mate.'"

"The cocked her head on one side and looked at Mr. Canary lovingly."

"Oh, my sweet little mate," he said. "Well, after my master bought my little mate, too, and didn't allow us to be separated, for they had told him in the bird shop we loved each other, he gave us this lovely home."

"It is a lovely home," said the fairy. She looked all about her. The canaries were in a large cage in a flower shop. The sun poured in through the windows and, though the day was chilly, it was quite, quite warm in the flower shop.

All around were lovely flowers. Many were growing in plants and everywhere there were green ferns. Some were hanging down from the ceiling; some were around the floor.

Then there were lovely cut flowers in a case where they were kept all fresh and cool, and there were lovely flowers in vases all about the shop.

There was a lovely warm fragrance of sweet-scented flowers, which had just been watered.

"Isn't it a lovely home?" asked the canary.

"It is indeed," said the fairy. "Well," the canary continued, "that is why I sing so happily and so joyfully. And I think, I really think, without being conceited about it, that my voice has improved since I have been so happy."

"I've tried not to let it spoil me, and I've tried not to let Mrs. Canary spoil me too much." He looked at Mrs. Canary cooly and winked his right eye and blinked his left one.

"I've tried to tell all the creatures who came in to the shop, and the minister, too, that I'm happy and pleased, and so I want to make others feel the same way."

DEIT DISSOLVED

Washington—The Japanese Deit has been dissolved by imperial decree of the profound differences of opinion between the cabinet and the majority parties in the Deit regarding the extension of the franchise. This action was taken by the emperor last Thursday at the request of Premier Hara, according to advices received here today from Tokio. It followed the recent violent scenes in parliament over the Suffrage question.

"I've my own lovely little mate. I love her and she loves me, and we've both got the good sense to be glad and not try to think of something to fight about. We know that two little birds can be very happy, and that it wouldn't make us happy in the least to ask for things we haven't got and wouldn't know what to do with if we had them."

"We can enjoy the sunshine, but we don't want to own the sun, do we? It wouldn't do!—It wouldn't do!—That's certain. And we love the fragrant flowers, and so I sing and sing and sing of the glorious life which we lead."

"My little throat tries to tell in its stinging something like this: 'Oh, let our voices of happiness ring. Of the joy that is ours let us sing, let us sing!'"

And the canary sang for all he was worth, while the fairy bowed and waved a smiling good-by.

AVIATOR TELLS OF MANY DIFFICULTIES

CURRENCY OF COUNTRY DIFFERENT

Sydney, Australia—One of the aviation difficulties revealed by the flight of Captain Ross Smith from England to Australia was that of obtaining money to pay bills in the currency of the country in which they happened to alight. Said one of the party: "We would fly 500 or 600 miles and late in the day would arrive in a country with a new currency, and could not pay for our things."

They passed thru extremes of temperature. They left England in a snowstorm and at an altitude of 8,000 feet found their sandwiches frozen, and the coffee in vacuum bottles almost congealed. When they landed in Australia they found the temperature 90 degrees in the shade.

SPAIN IS FLOODED WITH GAMBLING HOUSES

START CAMPAIGN AGAINST GAMBLING

Madrid—This country, the men and women of which have the reputation of being willing to put their last peca on some game of chance, has never witnessed such a wave of gambling as that which is now flowing over the country and has been in existence since the conclusion of the war. Casinos have been erected on the borders of the larger cities, so as not to interfere with the concessions in the cities. These gambling houses are crowded during the afternoons and evenings and until late in the morning in which the odds against them make it impossible for any but the extremely lucky to win.

The newspapers have started a campaign against this gambling in Madrid especially where, as one newspaper put it, "men and women are pauperized in gambling houses which operate under government license and then turned on the streets to beg."

"MAPLEWOOD 100" TRAPSHOOTERS REVIVED

TRAPSHOOTING EVENT THAT PROVED SO POPULAR TWO YEARS AGO BEING REVIVED

By Peter P. Carney, editor National Sports Syndicate.

The "Maplewood 100" is to be revived this year.

Two years ago this event was shot in nearly all of the important trapshooting tournaments east of the Mississippi River and it created more interest than any other trapshooting event ever listed with the possible exception of the amateur state championship.

The "Maplewood 100" this year will be conducted along the same lines as it was two years ago. There will be no less than 10 of these events, and not more than 20, prior to the championship event in Maplewood the first week in July.

will be conducted by the amateur shooters of the Eastern States who formed themselves into a committee at Maplewood last summer to better the condition of the amateur shooter and run shoots for the amateur by the amateur. The active management of the shoot will be in the hands of amateurs. This doesn't mean the elimination of the professional shooter. There will be a number of professionals no doubt asked to aid in the running of the shoot but these men will do the things the way the amateurs want them done.

Edward H. Moore of Hartford, Conn., is chairman of the General Committee in charge of the shoot, ably assisted by Jay Clarke, the Worcester, Mass., attorney. Mr. Clark is chairman of the amateur committee of shooters that is working in conjunction with the executive committee of the American Trapshooters' Association, and he is in a position to make himself a power in the trapshooting world.

The tournament committee—the men who will run the shoot—are: J. L. Snow, Boston Athletic Club, chairman; Former Congressman E. E. Reed, of Manchester, N. H., and John B. Fontaine, of Philadelphia. Amateurs have been talking for years about the running of an ideal shoot. This is their opportunity to show that an ideal shoot can be run. This is a revolutionary step but no great thing was put over without some inconvenience.

At a meeting of the general committee held at Pinehurst, N. C., during the progress of the Pinehurst shoot. Chairman Morse was instructed to make arrangements for the conduct of "Maplewood 100" shoots at

In the inter-city bowling matches at the Elk's alleys Sunday, Grand Rapids teams succeeded in winning four out of the seven games rolled. The Normingtons, Cubs, and Thompsons, rolling for Grand Rapids, took three straight games from Stevens Point. In the games with Marshfield, of which four were rolled, Grand Rapids dropped three. High score for the day went to Mr. Spaulding of Marshfield No. 2 team. Keen interest in the games was manifested, and the Elk's Club alleys vied with the Auto Show and Daly's theater as attractions of the afternoon and evening. The scores:

ABDULLAH CAUSED BRITISH TROUBLE

HAS OBTAINED SOME SUCCESS IN "HOLY WARS"

New York—Mohammed Bui Abdullah, the "Mad Mullah" of Somaliland, against whom British and Italian forces recently have been successful with tanks and aircraft, but who, himself, escaped, has caused trouble for the British for many years.

"Holy Wars"

He began stirring up the natives of Somaliland in 1896, after making a pilgrimage to Mecca and his "holy wars" sometimes have attained considerable success. In 1899 despatches said he was leading an uprising in the interior of Somaliland, and it was suggested that "a military promenade" be taken against him. That "promenade" grew into a desultory campaign which took three years and cost the British government $15,000,000. Even then, his power was only temporarily broken by the battle of Jidballi; for he fled with the remnant of his forces to Italian territory, destroying wells as he went and thus making pursuit impossible.

Moslem Faith

While he was only one of the lesser religious chiefs of his country, his pilgrimage to Mecca and his zeal in preaching the Moslem faith augmented his influence until he had collected a large army, in which were some of the best fighting tribes in that part of Africa.

He preached war for the protection of Islam and advocated the extermination of whites, and with the increase of his power began a crusade, aided by dervishes, which finally extended over the whole of Somaliland.

As the result of an agreement reached in December 1905, between Great Britain and Italy to offer the Mullah an assignment of a settled sphere in Somaliland, together with grazers' rights in certain parts of British and Italian territory, he undertook to observe peace toward Britain and Italy.

1910 Campaign

His next outbreak of consequence was in 1910, when he started a ferocious campaign against the sultanates under British protection, and slaughtered hundreds of tribesmen friendly to the British. Wide areas were laid waste and towns razed. The natural obstacles of the torrid desert country, combined with the Mullah's fanaticism won out, and the British decided to evacuate the country, for the time being. In 1915 he was again reported to be stirring up the tribesmen against the British, and his adherents were scattered by British forces.

"Mullah" in Somaliland means "leader" and because of Mohammed Bui Abdullah's fanaticism and his campaigns for extermination of whites, he a religious leader, gained the title of "Mad Mullah."

U. S. COMPETITORS IN DAIRY INDUSTRY

CANADA AND ARGENTINA PRODUCE GREATER PERCENT.

Washington—Canada and Argentina may soon prove serious competitors of the United States in the dairy industry, Government officials believe. The industry in both countries is in its infancy yet Canada is producing 70 per cent as much cheese and 12 percent as much butter as the United States, while Argentina is producing 18 percent as much cheese and seven percent as much butter. Canada's butter exports were 4 1 percent as large as those of the United States while her cheese exports greatly exceeded exports from the United States. Argentina's butter exports were double those of the United States and her cheese exports equaled 32 percent of those of the United States.

Will Develop.

It is generally believed, government officials say, that Argentina and Canada are capable of extensive development of their industries and it is probable, therefore, that the United States may experience in the future particularly energetic competition. Argentina, 21 days distant from New York, they say, may not be thought of seriously at this time as a direct competitor in the domestic market, but indirectly Argentine butter may supplant Canadian butter in the English market, in which case Canadian butter would find a logical outlet in the United States.

Canada's Policy.

Canada is in a better position today in the world's markets with her butter and cheese than is the United States, officials declare. Moreover, Canada's policy with her returned soldiers and immigrants toward land development is bringing results which eventually will mean larger production.

Land Scarce.

In the United States available lands are scarce and all lands generally expensive. It is reasonable to believe, government scientists say, that in the future production will not increase in proportion to the population, as the greater part of the really productive land is now utilized. Resumption of the importation of European butter is again giving real competition to our products.

STEAMER REFLAGGED.

Queenstone—The American steamer Lake Erie which was sunk eight months ago at Penarth Road after leaving Cardiff, outward bound, has been refloated. She has been towed to Queenstown for repairs.

NEW PROCESS INTRODUCED.

London—A new Belgian process of glass manufacture is being introduced into this country. A factory already established at Willesden is being extended for the purpose and Belgian experts will teach British workmen the process which so far has been the secret of Belgian manufacturers.

RATIFY SUFFRAGE

Oklahoma City—The House of the Oklahoma legislature today, passed the resolution ratifying the federal woman suffrage amendment by vote of 76 to 4 with 24 not voting. Ratification of the suffrage amendment will be completed when Governor J. B. A. Robertson places his signature on the resolution which he is expected to do late this afternoon.

BOOST for Grand Rapids.

ENDEAVOR TO BRING FOREIGNERS TO ITALY

IMPORT SO AS TO LESSEN BALANCE OF TRADE.

Rome—Demand for immediate resumption of foreign tourist traffic is general in Italy despite a shortage of hotels and limited housing facilities. Premier Nitti and other government officials have declared it important to bring foreigners to Italy so as to lessen the balance of trade against this country and improve the exchange rates.

Few Americans.

In no peace time within 40 years have there been so few Americans in Rome as at present. Their number is said to be about 300. The hotels are virtually all crowded with Italians. Tourists who come without making reservations in advance find it difficult to obtain accommodations. The government requisitioned 50 of the largest hotels in Rome for war work so that hotel space is far below normal.

Rome Grown.

Hotel keepers are making vigorous efforts to recover the use of their hostilities and each week a few hotels are turned back to their proprietors. But Rome has grown from 550,000 to 800,000 since the beginning of the war and lack of apartments and houses has forced Italian families into hotels as rapidly as room has become available.

Rates Favorable

Space will be found, nevertheless, for American tourists if they come to Rome, said an officer of the Hotelkeepers' Association to the Associated Press. The hotel managers have granted no leases to Italians and, it is stated, will give preference to tourists. It is pointed out that exchange rates are so favorable to Americans would become reasonable.

Transportation.

Italian railways are making preparations for a heavy tourist traffic next spring. The general in commercial circles that Americans will come to Italy in large numbers within a few months. If so, they will not find conditions normal. Motor transportation is said to be almost out of the question. The cost of petrol is prohibitive and it is so scarce that it cannot be had in unlimited quantities at any price. Motor cars also are scarce and transportation by that method high.
